Spotlight on Speaker

Frans Cronjé (Institute of Race Relations)

Frans Cronjé is CEO of the IRR. He was educated at St Johns College in Houghton and the University of the Witwatersrand and holds a PHD in scenario planning from North West University. He served with the South African police, worked as a horse-riding instructor and later logger in the United States, and completed a year-long expedition that crossed the African continent from Cape Town to Cairo.

He joined the IRR in 2004 and established its Centre For Risk Analysis, which specializes in using scenarios to help business and government leaders make decisions about investment and policy in South Africa. He has presented scenarios to over 100 South African corporations and foreign investors. He is an associate of the Centre for Innovative Leadership—a leading South Africa based scenario consultancy—and the author of A Time Traveller's Guide To Our Next Ten Years (Tafelberg 2014). Over the past two years his latest scenarios which describe South Africa in 2024 have been presented to an estimated 20 000 people across three continents and have been influential in shaping investor perception towards South Africa. His work has been widely cited in the media from the Volksblad to the Wall Street Journal. He writes a column for Rapport newspaper.
